Product Data

Any work chair used in production has special requirements to meet. Work chairs at production workstations not only need to combine maximum freedom of movement with optimum ergonomics, but primarily demonstrate extreme resilience. Only then are they able to withstand the heaviest of external influences. With their anatomical shape, flexible upholstery and resilient materials, the work chairs from Bimos are the perfect seating solutions for production.

Excellent design quality meets superb ergonomics and special comfort - Neon represents the new generation of work chairs. No other production work chair has features that can compare. Thanks to its innovative 1+1 system, the upholstery can be changed with just one click. This means the Neon is flexible, sustainable and optically adaptable for the workplace.
